

Background

In December 2002, the Planning Commission appointed a committee to review the Owensboro Metropolitan Zoning Ordinance and to propose revisions to the ordinance that the committee deemed warranted. Members appointed to the committee were David Appleby, a Planning Commissioner who served as the chairman of the committee, Roger Bellamy, City of Whitesville councilman, Eric Davis, Executive Director of the Chamber of Commerce, Mimi Davis, City of Owensboro Commissioner, Judy Dixon, Planning Commissioner and Board of Adjustment Member, Greg Hamilton, HRG employee, Martin Hayden, Planning Commissioner, Kate Higdon, Executive Director of PRIDE, Bruce Kunze, Daviess County Commissioner, Al Mattingly, City of Owensboro commissioner, Gary Noffsinger, Planning Director, C.A. Pantle, Board of Adjustment member, Ward Pedly, Board of Adjustment member and developer, Mike Riney, Daviess County Commissioner and Mike Volk, OMU representative.

One of the many objectives of the Zoning Ordinance is to promote the public health, safety and general welfare of Daviess County. Another is to facilitate orderly and harmonious development in the visual or historic development of Daviess County. The Zoning Ordinance is one of the regulatory documents for implementation of the adopted Comprehensive Plan for Owensboro, Whitesville, and Daviess County, Kentucky. The Zoning Ordinance is adopted by the OMPC and local legislative bodies (Daviess County Fiscal Court, Whitesville City Commission and Owensboro City Commission).

From January through September 2003, the Review Committee met at least twice a month at Owensboro City Hall. The Review Committee was charged with the task of conducting a thorough review and update of the entire Zoning Ordinance. Each article was reviewed and analyzed and proposed changes resulted in an effort to clarify current regulations and to revise regulations to enhance current development practices and to improve enforcement.

Many issues were discussed. The committee invited health department officials to discuss environmental issues, landscape professionals regarding landscaping requirements, and city and county engineers in response to flood ordinance issues. All of the committee meetings were open to the public and to the media. A number of citizens provided input on several issues of interest to them.

The proposed revisions were a result of a consensus among the Review Committee. Each member brought a unique perspective to the review process and all involved participated, expressed opinions, compromised and contributed to the proposed revisions to the Owensboro Metropolitan Zoning Ordinance.
